MANY FURNISHINGS DONATED FOR MOSES MASON HOUSE — MORE NEEDED

Thanks to the gracious response of the public to pleas for furniture and equipment donations, the Moses Mason House is coming along nicely and is gradually being filled with many interesting things. Less than a fortnight remains until it is opened to the public, following dedication which will take place on July 10 and to which all members of the Bethel Historical Society are happily looking forward.

Living room chairs have been donated recently, one by Mrs. Carroll Valerius and one by Mrs. Cecil Conrad.

Does anyone have a churn to contribute? Or a butter mold, a straight razor, or some sadirons? These as well as the following items are needed and would be greatly appreciated: wooden bowls; mixing bowls; rolls for spinning; dress forms; iron kettles; andirons and fireplace tools; brass or wrought iron candlesticks; figurines; small tables set as tilt-top, pie crust, console or candle stand type and another bureau or chest of drawers.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Daye of Englishtown, N. J., were recent guests of the Eddy Dayes.

Scott Lutton, Rumford, is spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters left Sunday to go to Augusta where they attended a school for water-testing on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tibbitts, Pensacola, Fla., have visited their mother, Mrs. Wade Robertson and Leslie in Newry for a week.

Paul Wright of Northfleet, Kent, England, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Irving W. Brown and Robert.

Dr. and Mrs. David Willard and family are vacationing this week at Nancy Willard's chalet on Lake Christopher, Bryant Pond, and are visiting relatives in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nickerson have moved for the summer, to the mobile home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nickerson, at the Douglas Trailer Park.

Named to the Dean's List at Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C., for the spring semester was Gary J. Page, son of Mrs. Emma Page, Bethel, a sophomore in the school of business administration.

Mrs. Irving W. Brown received word Monday night of the death of her father, George A. Wright in Northfleet, Kent, England. Mrs. Brown left by plane Tuesday evening for London. She will spend several weeks with her mother and other relatives in Northfleet.

If you like the town you live in, say so. If you don't like it keep your eyes open for a town you will like and at the first opportunity move there.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

After July 1, we will dispense Food Stamps at the Town Office to anyone who has the proper certification. They must have a card issued by the Dept. of Health and Welfare stating how many stamps they may purchase and if they are to receive them once or twice a month. The Town Office can make NO determination on these matters.

A person who has a card may obtain the stamps at any distribution center. They also can spend them in any store that accepts them. They can be taken out of state under the same conditions.

We have been told some people will have their authorization to purchase the stamps in July. Others will receive theirs later. This is due to the number being processed as the program starts. There are not enough people in the Dept. of Health and Welfare to certify the applicants.

A person who qualifies for stamps can purchase any item they choose as long as it is food. There are very few restrictions once a recipient has them.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.
Daisies are beginning to be gold- ened, holding the fullness of sum- mer; the bright look that is the basic quality of June.

There are the odors of growing things, the green smell of flower boxes, spicy geraniums and the fragrance of roses. These are the days when clouds explode in the endless blue sky, sun, rain, and warm earth. June studded with glory, summer's sweet beginning.

Birds sleep at dawn waiting sum- mer sleepheads. A warbler yellow- green flashes by. Where is he go- ing?

The country is magic or monot- ony, depending on the person.

"Some folks like city pavements, The hurrying to and fro, But give to me the country lanes Where wild sweet flowers grow."

Elhel Beal Caulfield

So on this June morning, in air soft and fresh and sweetly scented I unfasted "Nymph" and quietly pushed out into the water to ex- plore and to fish. Looking back where waves licked the shore a lone sandpiper cautiously strutted on skinny legs like a creature on stilts; but was remarkably grace- ful on foot or on wing.

The weeds are beginning to push above the water. Yellow pond lilies, which lack the delicate beauty and fragrance of the white water lilies, are evident in many places.

As I neared the mouth of the San- born River it murmured its hope of finding its way to the far distant sea to which all rivers patiently run. On a dead stub sat the king bird. Savage and fearless, he as- sails any bird that comes his way or interferences w. his own welfare.

His rasping voice warned me of his presence. Here, too, was where I caught my largest fish, an 18 inch pickerel full of fight. Today I was one of those still-fishermen enjoying the quiet waters, the look of a mud turtle on a log, and the flash of the dragon fly. I always find something reassuring here on the Sanborn with its hidden caves, and peaceful places. I've seen it in sunshine, in gusty wind, in rain, and in mist, and walked it in win- ter.

My progress toward home was one of starts and stops and turn- ings aside but it had been fun. One becomes aware that most of earth's work is done very quietly.

During my return I sat for some- time to gaze at the view. Wherever I looked I encountered something of interest; minute butterflies trac- ing erratic courses above the wa- ter, a red wing whirled and veered then dropped to a landing in the grass and late Mayflies were ab- out. I watched one alight on a twig nearby, standing high on its fragile legs. The two pair of wings; the first of which is much larger than the second are both lacy veined. As the light hit them they displayed iridescence. It is one of the most elegant of all insects.

On Monday, Fay and Ann Holt, Rena Bacon and Colista Morgan were in Portland.

Rachel B. Perkins, Springvale, was a caller at Mrs. Clyde Morg- an's on Tuesday. Other callers were Laurence French, Bertha Nottage, South Paris. This was the first time in many years that Bertha has been able to ride so it was a special ev- ent to call on her brothers, Frank and Fred Curtis, and her sisters, Club Eight met for dinner at Bean's Restaurant in South Paris on Wednesday.

NORTHWEST BETHEL - SONGO POND

Mrs. Louise B. Chapman, Corres.

Having a great grandmother all my life never really seemed like too much. When we went to visit our "Big Grammy" I always went with a feeling of awe. She was and is indeed a grand lady. As I grew older, I never visited as much as I should have, but then, that made each visit a little more special. I was not the first to give my great grandmother a great great grandchild, but when she first saw Sarah and held her in her arms, I could see the special feeling she had for my child. I had to really think about it for a long time after that visit. My great grandmother, born in 1874, had lived through what I had, and my children would only read about. At the time Sarah was born, she was 94 years old, an age most of us can only hope to reach. But, on her it looked good. I don't know how many of you have had or do have a great grandmother that you are able to grow up around, and if you do, I only hope you were able to have some good times and memories to carry with you. My two girls have three great grandmothers that they know and see quite often. They are as much a part of the girls' lives as my "big Grammy" was in mine. She is quite ill now, and the girls and I visited her the other day. Do you know what I found out? I found out that my "big Grammy," Cora Millett, is still a magnificent lady!

Little Shawn Smith, six month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith, Conway, N. H., spent a long week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith Jr.

John McDougal's garage is now nothing but a skeleton. He has been gradually tearing it down.

Sarah and Allison have been spending some time with Iva McIntosh, Sunday River, while yours truly has been working.

All the neighborhood gardens seem to be coming along.

A special hello to Emily Saunders.

TELSTAR CAPS MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON WITH STATE CLASS "C" DIADEM

Peter Brown's Telstar Regional High School Rebels completed their most successful season ever with a victory over the Sumner Tigers for the Maine State Class "C" Championship. With an overall record of 20-9, including four tough play-off games in six days, the Rebels most certainly have had one of the most productive seasons of any area school in the last few years.

Some of the more significant highlights of the season included two victories over the Triple C Champion Yarmouth Clippers, wins over Class "A" schools Oxford Hills and Berlin, N. H., and last year's State "B" and "C" Champions, Messalonskee and Hall-Dale.

Individual accomplishments included Doug Brooks' seven RBI's against Madison, Wayne Cummings' five RBI's against Lisbon, Levi Brown's two-hit, 10 strike-out victory over Richmond in the Western Maine semi-final, Peter Blake's no-hitter in the Western final against Massabesic, and his one-hitter against Sumner in the State Championship game.

Leading the hitting attack was senior Wayne Cummings with a .452 batting average and 28 RBI's, followed closely by senior Peter Blake and junior Doug Brooks with .429 averages. There were only three seniors on the team, providing much of the punch in the Rebel attack. Along with Cummings and Blake, Randy Olson, hard-hitting first baseman, chipped in with 22 RBI's and a fine .381 batting average. The three seniors, who were also tri-captains of the team, combined for 90 hits, 73 runs scored, and 82 RBI's, and the combination of Blake and Cummings had 13 of the 20 victories. Junior Levi Brown, and sophomores Duffy Ellsworth and Alan Seames were the other starters batting over .300. Brown also came through with five big victories in the pitching department along with being a fine defensive catcher. One more interesting note is that Doug Brooks, although being sidelined for the last nine games by illness, still managed to get 24 RBI's.

The following group of sophomores also played an important role, Malcolm Bennett, who made only one error at second base and contributed one pitching victory to the total of 20; Mark Thurlow, who also had a complete game victory and Chris Olson who split the right field duty between them were both fine defensive outfielders. Alan Seames, who had a chain saw accident during the pre-season requiring 20 stitches in the foot, came on strong as the season progressed and provided long ball power to the Rebel line-up as well as playing a strong game in the outfield. Duffy Ellsworth, who as a leadoff batter led the team with 23 bases on balls and 15 stolen bases, played one of the coolest shortstops around.

Along with the other juniors listed, Paul Farrar, who played the outfield and took over at the hot corner when Brooks became ill, led the team with two home runs and was second with ten stolen bases. Farrar made the switch to third in fine fashion as he committed only two errors in the games he played there. Bruce Cummings, who provided the team with an excellent defensive first baseman, and fine third base coach when not playing, hit a lousy .385.

Coach Peter Brown, a Portland High and U. of M.-Farmington graduate, attributes his team's success to a fine mixture of youth and experience, and the teams ability to stay real loose through the entire season. Brown, who is also the assistant football coach at Telstar, is ably assisted by Dick Collins, a Lewiston native, and head football coach at Telstar.

The following statistics will bear out why Telstar's 1974 baseball team was so successful.

The Best Way To Save Energy Is By Calling Your Oil Dealer.

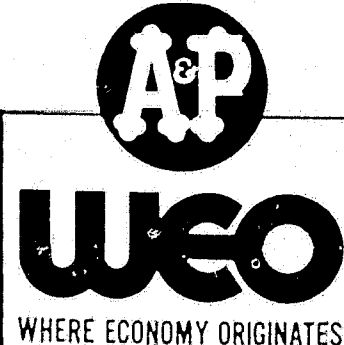

Unbelievable or not, the fact is, we can do a great deal to save energy, and in the process save you money.

FACT: oil heat directly fired saves 3 times the oil it takes to generate the same heat by electricity or any other indirect energy source.

FACT: most oil burners could use a quick inexpensive tune up that could save you 20% or more each year. Like all appliances, your oil furnace needs a little maintenance to run more efficiently. It will run cleaner too.

FACT: Our company wants to do all we can to save you money. Give us a call, we will be glad to show you how to use less of a good thing.
